

To use the Tarot of Hugo Cards:

Lay the cards face down on a table or floor, mix them up, then have your resident animal select one or more cards for you. (As you know, animals are very sensitive to psychic energy.) Let the animal decide how many cards are appropriate for you at this reading. If no animal is available or willing to assist in the reading, you may ask a human companion or choose the cards yourself. Turn the chosen card or cards face up and use your own instincts to sense the meaning. Traditionally the meanings differ if the card is right side up or upside down. For additional interpretations, refer to the following:

Tarot of Hugo - The Cards

The Meaty Bone: Right side Up: Unexpected riches are coming your way. Upside Down: Your desire for wealth will bring you unhappiness.

The Friend: Up: You will make a new friend. Down: Call your oldest friend and share a laugh.

The Tail of Hugo

Hugo is a Maltese/Poodle mix, named for the author Victor Hugo. Recently his parentage has been put in doubt because of his gigantic size - almost 15 lbs!- and his amazing powers of divination. From 3 months old, Hugo exhibited signs of a rich interior life and a mystical connection to the world around him. Besides seeing into the past and future, while keeping his four paws rooted in the present, Hugo also has healing powers and it has been said one lick from Hugo and a broken heart can be mended. At 5 months of age he created this deck of cards to share his insights into the nature of the human condition. Hugo hopes other animals will use the cards to increase their own sensitivity and develop their powers of divination.
